Vaccines

Vaccinating your dog is very important to decrease their exposure to many contagious and debilitating diseases. We will recommend a vaccination protocol that is appropriate for your dog's lifestyle.

Semi-Annual Physical Exams

Your dog is aging much more quickly than you and changes can occur quickly. It is important that a comprehensive physical exam and diagnostic screening are performed on a semi-annual basis to detect concerns early.

Prevention

Preventive care is the foundation for providing your dog a lifetime of good health.

Many diseases can be successfully managed with early screening, including bloodwork and a urinalysis. This is essential to detect diseases early before they become serious – and very expensive. This plan includes oral care and diagnostic imaging.
